By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK- (A) -Everybody has a secret ambition-except me. Mine is no secret. It's just plain unlikely.

My ambition is to be the "ten mostest" or the "ten bestest" of something. Just for a year, mother, just for a year. Just what I am picked as the "ten mostest" or the "ten bestest" of-well, I don't care. I just want to be recognized. My ambition grew slowly. Pretty much like an acorn that lacked vitamin "D." But now it is a mighty oak of yearning.

It began years ago when I was an eager beaver cub reporter. My editor, thinking I was too young to sit around with my heels on the desk, threw me a mimeographed news release and said: "Gimmecouplahunnertonthis."

All editors get, in time, to talk pretty much like that. They hate to waste space—even in talking. Translated, what my editor said

"Take this horrible piece of tripe, Junior, and boil it down to 200 hundred words-if you can. And when you are through, I will probably throw it into the waste basket anyway." Rest Is History

The news release contained a well-known fashion leader's selection of what she considered the ten best-dressed women in America. For some reason-it must have been a dull day indeed on the Lord's green footstool-my piece got printed.

Well, as writers sometimes say when they don't know what to say next—the rest is history.

Picking lists of the "ten best this" or the "ten best that" became a kind of American industry. Nobody who wanted to pretend they were anybody could let a year pass without making their annual selections of the top ten something or other.

And I became the first man in American newspaper history to reach the rank of a specialist in this field of reporting. For one reason or another-and I'd just soon not learn the reasonthe editor always threw these handouts to my desk. Often, he wadded them up in a ball before throwing-adding injury to insult.
"The Ten Best" Editor

It was thus I reached the peak in this fast-paced, nerve-tinging game. I became as "the ten best" editor. I wrote 'em allfrom the ten best marble players since Adam to the ten Siamese cats that looked most like Adolf Insidiously the idea crept into my mind: "Why can't you get one of these lists yourself sometime, Boyle?

Why don't they ever name you on

And then, as frustrated ambition fed upon itself:

"To heck with just being one of of ten on any list. Why not sweep Community News from the boards? Why not be all ten, and live a name mankind will remember?" No Progress

I can't say I've made an inch of progress. But I have found out my most dangerous rival. It's Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In 1948 General Ike was picked by the National Laugh Week foundation as the "man with the most virile laugh." Obviously "Ike" is leading in the "ten mostest' and the "ten bestest" field. It looks like he'll win the race before I even get on my first list. I told my wife it looked like she was married to an utter failure.

Minister is 'Something New'

When Alma Brown married Seaman Raymond Miller, in Long Beach, Calif., the minister doubled as the "something new." Rev. Marjo Gortner, who united the couple, is only 4 years old. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 - Gov. Tom Dewey called former Sec'y of War Bob Patterson the other day, offered him an appointment to New York State's powerful Circuit Court of Appeals. During the discussion, Dewey congratulated Patterson on having won Surrogate Frankenthaler court case for the New York county Republican machine.

"It wasn't a very hard case," replied Patterson. "I had all the facts on my side. It was actually a 'lead-pipe cinch'."

"Bob," replied Dewey, with a twinkle in his eye, "I'm the last guy in the world you should talk to about 'lead-pipe cinches'."

Three Dixiecrats Die Hard

John Bankin of Mississien.

Jonh Rankin of Mississippi, Gene Cox of Georgia and Howard Smith of Virginia were a chastened trio when they crept out of the House Democratic caucus last week after their protests against modernizing the House rules committee were squelched by a 176-47 vote.

Never before in their long careers had they been sat upon quite so hard. Even freshman congressman at the closed door meeting joined in heckling Rankin, who surpassed all his previous demagoguery by charging that the move to revise the rules committee procedure was hatched in Moscow.

"The effort to change our rules was initiated by the FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) gang," stormed the Mississippian. "The FEPC proposition. as everybody knows, was first propounded by Joe Stalin in

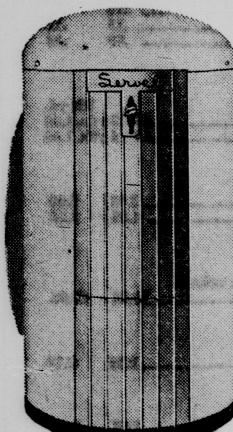

This gem brought howls of uncontrolled glee. Veteran congressman John Dingell of Michigan broke in to say:

Four Arrested In Basketball 'Fix' Bribery

GI Law Student at George Washington, Player Approached

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK, Jan. 5-(A)-Four men were under arrest on a bribery charge today after a college basketball player told authorities they tried to get him to "fix" a game.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said the arrests last night, following four months' investigation by New York City detectives, came after David Shapiro of Brooklyn, co-captain of George Washington University's cage squad, had reported the bribe offer to him.

Prayer Is Praised

Hogan praised Shapiro, a 25year-old GI law student who won four battle stars in World War II. for his courage and honesty in working with the district attorney's office until the arrests were Charged with violation of a section of the penal law covering bribery of participants in amateur sports and with conspiracy were: Joseph Aronowitz, 35, a cloth cutter, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Philip Klein, 24, a linotype operator, also of Brooklyn. Jack Levy, 40, of Miami, Fla.

William Rivlin, 43, of New York Offered $1,000 To Lose

Hogan said Shapiro told him that the four men had offered him $1,000 to make certain his team lost to Manhattan College at Madison Square Garden last night by a lopsided score.

Manhattan, an early 7½ point favor, rose to a 13-point favorite before game time. Shapiro didn't score a point in the game and fouled out on five personals.

Immediately after the game, won by George Washington, 71-63, in a surprise, Shapiro was whisked away to the district attorney's office to identify the arrested men.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5-(AP)-The joker who still speaks of golf as "an old man's game" likely will get a shock when the 1949 Walker Cup matches are played at Winged Foot in August It will be the first invasion of the United States by a British Walker Cup team since 1936 and the kids who played on both sides then are now a bunch of grizzled old gaffers who aren't serious contenders for the team . . . the 1936 leaders were Johnny Goodman, Scotty Campbell and Johnny Fischer for the U. S. and Hector, Thompson, Jack McLean and Cecil Ewing for Britain This year's American side likely will show such players as Willie Turnesa, Ray Billows, Frank Stranahan, Ted Bishop, Skee Riegel and maybe one oldster, John Dawson Thirteen years ago Dawson wasn't exactly sanitary in the eyes of the USGA and never has been eligible for a cup team. He's OK as an amateur now and may get his chance now that he's nearly too old for such competition.

Vikings Banquet is Postponed to Jan. 21

MARSHALL, Mo., Jan. 5-(AP)-The annual banquet at Missouri Valley College, originally scheduled for Friday night, has been postponed until January 21.

Steve Murphy president of the student body and editor of the Delta, college newspaper, said last night the student committee decided to postpone the affair due to the fact that Coach Volney Ashford had remained in Tampa, Fla., with Gene Burnett, Viking football star was injured in the New Year's Day Cigar Bowl game.

Ashford had asked that the student body go ahead with its banquet, but the student committee, in session last night, postponed the event until January 21 in order that Coach Ashford and Burnett could be present.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of 14 authoritative, understandable articles in NEA's Annual Tax Primer, prepared by NEA's recognized authority on income tax matters in consultation with Bureau of Internal Revenue experts. This year's primer has been completely revised. Step by step it shows the wage-earning taxpayer how to handle every item of his return with the least effort and the greatest accuracyhow to pay the smallest tax while complying with the law and regulations.

By S. BURTON HEATH NEA Staff Correspondent

The law permits you to deduct certain expenses, provided your employer did not reimburse you, if they were necessary in earning your taxable income and customary in your line of work.

These are divided into two classes. One can be claimed only as a miscellaneous deduction, provided you are not using the tax table or the standard deduction. This will be discussed in the eleventh article.

The second and smaller class can be subtracted from your salary in Item 2,.so that you get its benefit even if you do use the tax table or the standard reduction. These are "expenses of travel" while away from home and away from the town in which your employer has assigned your working headquarters.

If you had more than one employer, against the income from each you should charge those expenses arising out of that income. But if you can not practicably divide deductable expenses among different employers, lump them together and charge their total against your entire 1948 wagesalary income.

At the right (above) is a blank to help figure the cost of operating your automobile for your employer's benefit. The chargeable expenses competed with the help of this blank may then be carried to another, where they can be added to other deductable expenses.

If you used your car entirely for business driving away from home and away from the town which is your working headquarters, you can charge off all the expenses shown in this blank that your employer did not repay.

But there are other possibilities. For any of them, the first step is to divide the total out-ofpocket cost by the total number of miles driven for all purposes. This gives an average cost per mile.

(1) Did you drive partly for personal and family purposes? If so, you cannot charge off expenses for that. (2) Did you drive partly on business away from home? If so, multiply the average cost per mile by the number of miles driven on business away from home. This gives a reduction from Item 2.
